

Global Fund for Children Global Safeguarding Policy

Introduction

Global Fund for Children (GFC) invests in local organizations working with children and youth around the world. Our global grantmaking programs address a wide range of social justice issues, including education, gender equity, youth empowerment, and freedom from violence and exploitation.

GFC has a strong commitment to protecting those most at risk and to acting as a role model for child- and youth-serving organizations. Although children and youth may be extremely resourceful and resilient, they are also particularly vulnerable to abuse due to their lack of status and power, their stage of development, and their reliance on adults.

We recognize that:

- Organizations and professionals working or in contact with children and youth have a duty to ensure safety and well-being.
- The welfare of the child is a paramount consideration, as enshrined in the UN Convention on the Rights of the Child.
- All children and youth have an equal right to protection, regardless of age, disability, gender, racial heritage, religious belief, sexual orientation, or gender identity.
- It is our responsibility to minimize the harm that may be done as a result of our activities.

This Global Safeguarding Policy reflects our commitment to respect, promote, uphold, and protect the rights of the child as set out in the UN Convention on the Rights of the Child and in line with GFC values.

Accountability

Safeguarding is the responsibility of all. The procedures and processes contained in this Policy apply equally to:

- The Global Fund for Children (reg: North Carolina)
- The Global Fund for Children UK Trust (UK charity number 1119544)
- The Global Fund for Children HK Limited (CR NO: 2384548)
- Foundation for Rebuilding Childhood (PAN NO: AADCF0437E)
- All GFC directors, trustees and committee members
- Senior leadership team
- All staff
- Volunteers and interns
- Associates of GFC (see definition of Associates below)

All GFC visitors, including journalists and media personnel, and any individual visiting GFC's work or GFC-supported work in any capacity at GFC's request or instruction, are expected to comply with this Policy (see below).

All grassroots partners of GFC must have their own safeguarding policies and procedures in place that are consistent with this Policy within one year of the commencement of the partnership. This requirement must be included in the applicable Letter of Agreement for each grassroots partner. Grassroots partners must commit to comply with this Policy whilst their own safeguarding policies and procedures are under development.

To guarantee the effectiveness of this Policy, GFC will ensure that:

- There is a designated director for safeguarding on the Global Board.
- There is a global designated safeguard lead (DSL).
- There is a Global Safeguarding Team that meets at least three times per year, ahead of Global Board meetings, to monitor organizational safeguarding practices and promote learning.
- An update on safeguarding is given by the designated director at each Global Board meeting and board of trustees meeting.
- Implementation and effectiveness of this Policy is reviewed annually and the Policy is updated annually based on findings and/or whenever there is a relevant change in the law.
- A safeguarding report is presented to the Global Board and the UK board of trustees on an annual basis.

GFC will treat any breach of this Policy seriously. Failure to comply with this Policy may incur sanctions ranging from disciplinary action (including possible dismissal) to termination of contracts or partnerships, and where appropriate, may result in referral to the police or other relevant authorities.

Definitions

Children

While the definition of a child varies around the world, this Policy refers to an individual under the age of 18, in line with the UN Convention on the Rights of the Child.

Youth

An individual between the ages of 18 and 24, in line with the upper age limit in the UN definition of youth.

Unless otherwise noted below, all references to children in this Policy should be read as a reference to children and youth.

Safeguarding

Child and youth safeguarding is the responsibility that an organization has to develop and implement policies and procedures designed to ensure that its staff, operations, and programs do not harm children and youth; that they do not expose children or youth to the risk of harm or abuse; and that any concerns the organization has about children or youth's safety within the communities in which it works are reported to the appropriate authorities, as appropriate.¹

Safeguarding means:

- Protecting children from abuse and maltreatment
- Preventing harm to children's health or development
- Ensuring that children are provided with safe and effective care
- Taking action to enable all children to have the best outcomes.²

Child protection is part of the safeguarding process. It focuses on protecting individual children identified as suffering or likely to suffer significant harm. This Policy includes response and reporting procedures, which detail how to respond to concerns about a child. GFC acknowledges that the safeguarding context is different in each region in which we operate and that local context will be considered when making safeguarding decisions.

Harm and Abuse

According to the World Health Organization "child abuse" or "maltreatment" constitutes "all forms of physical and/or emotional ill-treatment, sexual abuse, neglect or negligent treatment or commercial or other exploitation, resulting in actual or potential harm to the child's health, survival, development or dignity in the context of a relationship of responsibility, trust or power." It is important to recognize, however, that definitions of abuse vary significantly across locations. Harm may also be caused to children or youth in ways that do not meet the threshold of "abuse" or do not fit easily within traditional definitions.

For the purposes of this Policy, staff of GFC and others required to adhere to this Policy should be alert to any actions that may cause harm to children or youth, whether these reach the threshold of abuse or not and whether the harm is caused intentionally or unintentionally, or directly or indirectly.

Safeguarding within Human Resources

Safe Recruitment

GFC seeks to recruit staff who are committed to the highest standards of personal and professional conduct. This goes beyond simply complying with protocols and extends to ensuring that individuals have an appropriate set of personal and professional values and are committed to promoting the safety and well-being of children and youth.

Recruitment of Staff

- All staff are required to provide three references (phone and email references), as well as a copy of an official photo ID as proof of identity, and these items are stored securely in personnel files.
- For staff roles that include contact with children and youth, questions are included in interviews relating to safeguarding.
- Compliance with the Global Safeguarding Policy is a contractual requirement for each staff member.
- The level of background check is determined by the following:
 - The type of activity the individual is engaged in at GFC and the level of potential risk this poses to children and youth, and
 - The frequency of unsupervised contact with children and youth at GFC.
- To the extent available (taking into account cost and other factors), DBS and FBI checks shall be obtained.

Board of Directors, Board of Trustees and Committee members

In order to support our Boards in understanding safeguarding, this Global Safeguarding Policy is included as part of the Board Orientation Manual. An acknowledgement of receipt of this Global Safeguarding Policy is included in the onboarding forms that directors/trustees sign when joining the Boards. All directors/trustees are required to provide at least one reference (reference names and contact information), as well as a copy of an official photo ID as proof of identity, and these items are stored securely in personnel files.

Staff Training and Support

GFC shall provide training and support designed to ensure that staff and others required to comply with this Policy understand their safeguarding responsibilities and have the knowledge and skills necessary to fulfill their obligations.

- Compliance with this Policy is a requirement in all employees' contracts.
- All staff receive an induction on safeguarding within the first month of work. If they are regional staff, they also receive context-specific induction delivered by their regional program director, supported by the DSL.
- Capacity development on safeguarding is provided across the organization on an annual basis, including refresher training within three months of the Global Safeguarding Policy being updated.
- Staff with specific responsibilities for child or youth safeguarding receive regular specialist capacity development and have access to the resources and tools necessary to execute their responsibilities.
- Supervision of staff and volunteers shall be provided where appropriate.

Volunteers and Interns

Volunteers and interns follow the same safe recruitment process as staff.

Associates

- Associates of GFC include consultants, contractors and service providers whose work for GFC involves direct or indirect contact with children and youth (to the extent such contractors or providers are legal entities, then the references to Associates shall refer to those individuals whose work for GFC through such entities involves direct or indirect contact with children and youth).
- Associates are provided with a copy of this Policy prior to work commencing, which they must read and sign a commitment to adhere to.
- Expectations with regard to safeguarding are explained in induction prior to undertaking assignments that involve direct or indirect contact with children and youth.
- Contracts for Associates include a clause requiring compliance with this Policy and the consequences of a breach.
- Associates of GFC partners must adhere to the partner organization's own safeguarding policies during the duration of the partnership.
- Background checks are completed on Associates contracted by GFC to work directly with GFC partners where they may come into contact with children and youth:
 - All Associates whose work involves direct or indirect contact with children and youth must provide GFC with two independent references that are verified by telephone or email. References cannot be family members and must have known the candidate for longer than three years.
 - For all Associates whose work involves direct or indirect contact with children and youth, a DBS, FBI, or other government background check obtained in the past three years must be produced. If one is not in place, GFC will ensure that one is completed prior to any contact with children or youth. Where such checks are not available, GFC reserves the right to call references to seek further information about the candidate's practice in relation to children.

Visitors

When GFC guests participate in partner visits with our staff, we will ensure that:

- There is a clear purpose and reason for their visit (e.g., donor visiting a project, volunteer from a corporate partner offering a brief training session).
- We provide a review of relevant local context and customs.
- We provide them with a copy of this Global Safeguarding Policy and they are briefed on any additional safeguarding measures required by the partner and they commit in writing to comply with the Policy and partner specific safeguarding measures.
- They are not left unsupervised at any time with children and youth.

GFC Safeguarding Code of Conduct

All GFC personnel should be aware of their impact in their local context and should familiarize themselves with different cultural norms prior to going out into the field. This Safeguarding Code of Conduct outlines the behavior we expect of all our directors/trustees, senior leadership team, staff, Associates, volunteers and interns, and others visiting GFC programs or GFC-supported programs at GFC's request or instruction. It aims to help us protect children and youth from abuse but also serves to protect from allegations of inappropriate conduct.

Any breach of this code will be taken seriously and investigated. This may result in disciplinary action (including termination) and/or referrals to relevant authorities such as the police or social services.

Responsibility

- Ensure that you have read and follow GFC policies and procedures at all times.
- Never engage in any action that harms or exploits children or youth.
- Never engage in illegal activities or use illegal substances.
- Never behave in ways that are contrary to the values and mission of GFC or could negatively affect the organization's reputation.
- Never smoke or consume alcohol while on site at GFC funded partner organizations.
- Report all allegations or suspicions of abuse immediately, using the GFC reporting procedures outlined at the end of this Policy.

Rights and Respect

- Respect differences and never discriminate on the grounds of gender, sexual orientation, culture, race, ethnicity, disability, and religious belief systems.
- Never act in a way that could be perceived as threatening, including the use of physical punishment or physical force to manage children or youth.
- Listen to children and youth and take their contributions seriously.
- Never make sarcastic, insensitive, derogatory, or sexually suggestive comments or gestures to or in front of children and youth.
- Respect a child or youth's right to personal privacy and use caution when discussing sensitive topics.

Relationships with Children and Youth

- Ensure that there is more than one adult present during interactions with children and youth.
- Avoid spending excessive time with any one child or youth or otherwise showing favoritism.
- Never give money or a gift of any kind to individual children, youth or their families. If you wish to give a gift to a child or youth, this must be agreed upon with the project staff in advance.
- Never give children or youth your personal contact details (cell number, email, or address) or have contact with them via a personal email, phone or social media account.
- Never take a child or youth to your home, hotel, or any other private space.
- Never engage in any form of sexual contact with a child or youth. Mistaken belief regarding the age of a child or youth is not a defense.³

Social Media Use

³ This is consistent with the standard set out in the UN Secretary General's bulletin "Special Measures for Protection from Sexual Exploitation and Sexual Abuse" (ST/SGB/2003/13, section 3, para. 3.2 (5)).

- Never directly post images or stories about children or youth who are engaged with GFC and/or our partners on your personal social media accounts. Consent, when obtained, is given to GFC as an organization and not to the individual for personal use.
- Never accept contact requests or engage via personal social media with children or youth you have met through GFC or our partners, and please report and forward requests to the DSL.
- Always think twice about what you post/share and what implications this may have for the organization.
- Never upload or post any racist, defamatory, obscene, or abusive content.

Upholding This Safeguarding Code of Conduct

If you become aware of any breaches of this code, please follow the procedure below:

- Report to your direct supervisor.
- Confidential reports can be made to the DSL.
- If the breach is not promptly addressed, escalate to the DSL, or if necessary to the President, CEO (person responsible for safeguarding).

A person may report on an anonymous basis, although that may impede the DSL's ability to thoroughly investigate the allegations. No person who makes a report in good faith will be subject to retaliation of any sort. In this regard, any report shall be subject to the protections afforded by the GFC Whistleblower policy.

Program Management

Grantmaking

GFC has a legal and moral obligation to take all reasonable steps to prevent foreseeable harm in any activity or interaction it is responsible for. This includes a responsibility to ensure that partners receiving our grants have the competence to fulfill their obligations safely and have the policies and procedures in place to prevent harm or abuse to children and youth.

GFC is legally accountable for ensuring that the organization's funds are used properly and that due diligence checks are conducted to identify and verify who our partners are, to ascertain that they have the capacity and skills to deliver initiatives safely, and to monitor their activities and conduct. This responsibility is delegated to the vice president of programs, the director of global grantmaking, and the regional program directors for each region.

To ensure that our grantmaking function is working to safeguard children and youth, the following measures are in place:

- Due diligence checks of all prospective partners are completed, including a review of the policies, procedures, and processes that are in place to safeguard children and youth.
- Partners must fulfill the terms of their Letter of Agreement, which includes having a safeguarding policy in place by the end of the first full year of funding and committing to comply with this Policy in the interim.
- Where personally identifiable data, including research involving children and youth, is shared between GFC and the partner, a written data-sharing agreement is developed that covers the standard guidelines for ethical research of human subjects, including informed consent where relevant.
- Where necessary, GFC provides additional capacity development to ensure the appropriate safe practices and policies are in place to ensure children and youth are safeguarded.

Visits to Partners

When visiting GFC partner organizations, GFC personnel must adhere to the partner's own safeguarding and child protection policies and processes for the entire duration of the visit, as well as this Policy, including the GFC Safeguarding Code of Conduct, while in the field. It is recommended that this information be requested prior to the visit wherever possible, to ensure adequate preparation is made.

Should our partners be concerned about the behavior of GFC staff or others subject to this Policy, they can report their concerns by emailing our DSL directly or via the website. GFC will investigate all reports, and the fact of notifying GFC of concerns will not impact the funding relationship between GFC and the partner organization.

Adaption to the Local Context

When working in different areas of the world, GFC believes that:

- Every child and youth has the right to be protected from all forms of violence, abuse, and maltreatment, irrespective of their nationality, race, religion, or socioeconomic status.
- Respect for local laws and customs is critical in following the appropriate reporting and response procedures when working with our partners to keep children and youth safe in diverse contexts.

We understand that each country in which we operate has a different approach and understanding of what safeguarding means. Our regional programs teams will play a key role in supporting our partners to ensure that they are meeting the local context, as well as in ensuring that the GFC Global Safeguarding Policy remains fit for purpose within the context of local law and customs.

No matter where our staff, consultants, volunteers or interns are in the world when visiting our partner organizations, if they see something that makes them feel uncomfortable or they become worried about someone's safety, they must report directly to the DSL and, if appropriate, to the person responsible in the partner organization. If the concern is about the partner, then this must be reported immediately to the DSL. If a child or youth is in immediate danger, GFC staff, consultants, volunteers and interns must call the relevant local authorities and then report immediately to the DSL (see reporting and response procedures on page 13).

Supporting Our Partners in Upholding Their Safeguarding Practices

GFC recognizes that there is an inherent power dynamic between funder and partner. We want to create relationships that enable organizations to discuss with us, without fear of recrimination or of their funding being suspended, any safeguarding concerns they have, whether within their organization or about other organizations (including foundations and other donors). Through our capacity development resources, we aim to support our partners in developing robust safeguarding practices and help where they face challenges.

Children and Youth Participation

The United Nations Convention on the Rights of the Child establishes children's right to participate and to have their views taken into account in matters that affect them. For the purposes of this Policy, participation is understood to be activities or initiatives where GFC invites children or youth to take an active role in the delivery of our initiatives or to share their views, ideas, and experiences as part of our work.

Risk assessments are conducted prior to any long-term participatory activities involving children or youth and result in a Risk Management Plan that addresses all aspects of child safety, including digital safety.

Participation

- In order to safeguard their needs, children and youth (and their parents/guardians) are provided with information in advance that explains the initiative and the role they are being asked to fulfill. They are given time to consider the request, and it is made clear that their participation is voluntary.
- Where children or youth agree to participate, a written agreement is produced outlining GFC's expectations of them, the support they can expect from GFC, and the extent/limit of their ongoing involvement. The agreement is signed by the child/youth and their parent/guardian, confirming their informed consent to participate. Separate consent is obtained for the use of any information provided by children and youth.
- Children and youth should not incur costs as a result of their participation (e.g., travel, materials, meals, refreshments). They are reimbursed in advance for any costs related to participation.
- Children and youth are given clear feedback on the impact of their involvement, the outcome of any decisions, next steps, and the value of their involvement. Feedback is sought about their satisfaction with the participation process and ways in which it could be improved.

Facilitators of Children and Youth Participation

- Staff and consultants facilitating participation by children and youth are provided with appropriate training and tools to enable them to work effectively with children and youth. This includes, at a minimum, training on the safeguarding measures to be implemented throughout the initiative.
- Staff and consultants are expected to review this Policy before any involvement in child or youth participation to ensure they are confident in their knowledge of the reporting procedures.
- The DSL should be notified before any child or youth participation is due to take place to ensure that staff and consultants are fully supported to carry this out safely.

Safeguarding GFC Storytelling

In our marketing and communications, GFC believes in:

- The best interests of the child/youth: The public use of images and stories of children and youth inevitably poses potential risks. Where there is a risk of potential negative consequences for children and youth, we make decisions that favor their safety and protection.
- Dignity: In our communications, we uphold the rights and dignity of the child or youth, their family, and the wider community. We do not use language or images that stereotype, degrade, or shame children and youth.
- Privacy: GFC upholds every child and youth's right to privacy. The sharing of information is kept to the minimal necessary to achieve wider goals, and we never share information that could put a child or youth at risk.
- Accuracy: The organization's portrayal of individuals or groups must not be manipulated or sensationalized in any way, but instead should provide a balanced depiction of their life and circumstances.

We keep children and youth safe in our storytelling by following these guidelines:

- Where children or youth are survivors of violence or human rights violations, both the child/youth (and their parent/guardian) and the GFC partner must give informed consent to their story being told. Where consent is given, photos may be taken of the child or youth.
- Consent must be obtained before taking photographs of children and for images to be used on social media, in recognition of the specific risks associated with posting imagery on the internet. Consent via partner is acceptable if the partner has consent for images to be taken from participants and/or their parents/guardians.
- All content, publications, and presentations featuring children or youth are reviewed by at least two GFC team members, including at least one member of the marketing and communications team, to ensure that no child or youth is put at risk. Where doubts exist, content decisions will be discussed with the DSL.
- Images that could be considered sexually provocative or where children or youth are not fully clothed are not used.
- GFC obtains informed consent from partners when using their own imagery, and the partner must confirm that it has obtained appropriate consent from the children and youth pictured.
- Consent documentation is stored by the marketing and communications team.
- If we receive a request to remove a photo from our archives, we will do this promptly.

Children's Voice in Storytelling

Whenever possible, children and youth are given the opportunity to provide their own accounts and personal narratives, rather than having people speak on their behalf. When using content created by children and youth, we share the right to use it with the partner involved provided we have received any necessary consents to do so.

Refusing to Participate

GFC partners can refuse to participate in marketing activity if this has a safeguarding consequence for their organization. This will not impact the funding relationship with GFC, nor will it prevent the partner from being involved in marketing at a later date.

Reporting and Response Procedures

When a child safeguarding concern is brought to your attention – ACT.

- Act on your concerns. If in doubt, speak out!
- Child-centered. The protection of children is the most important consideration.
- Time counts. Ensure timely, effective, confidential and appropriate responses to child safeguarding issues⁴.

It is the responsibility of all to take seriously any concerns, complaints, allegations, suspicions, or incidents involving children and youth. Reporting these concerns to the DSL is a GFC mandatory requirement. Failure to report will be considered a serious breach of GFC's Global Safeguarding Policy and could result in termination. There shall be no retaliation of any sort against any GFC personnel reporting in good faith in accordance with the policies of the GFC in effect from time to time.

Please follow the GFC reporting and response procedures on page 15.

GFC Internal Safeguarding Procedures

Concerns about harm or abuse must be internally reported where:

- You observe concerning behavior/abuse to a child or youth.
- The alleged perpetrator is a GFC staff member, visitor, or associate, or a member of the staff of a partner organization.
- The alleged perpetrator is a member of the child's family or community, or is unknown to the child.
- The alleged perpetrator is also a child, although responses should take into account the protection and safety of both the child victim and the alleged child abuser.
- The abuse is historical. Most abuse is not disclosed until many years after it has occurred, but the risks of harm to children or youth may persist and require investigation.
- The report is anonymous as this does not automatically mean that it bears less substance but may indicate fear of reprisal, shame or other barriers to disclosure.

Duty of Care

GFC has a legal and moral obligation to respond to cases of harm and abuse when these are identified through our engagement with children and youth. We must not, however, initiate interventions or offer advice that requires specialist child protection expertise, as this is outside our area of competence and could inadvertently result in further harm to the child. Details of concerns are treated with the highest degree of confidentiality and only shared with the minimum number of people necessary to ensure the safety of the child and consistent with our legal obligations. The responsibility for decisions and actions rests with GFC as an organization and not with any individual. Staff, Associates, volunteers and interns must not act in isolation but must consult with GFC's DSL and/or their direct supervisor before taking any action in response to child protection concerns (except in the case where a child or youth is in immediate danger, in which case call the police and/or relevant authorities immediately (or if there are legitimate concerns around the appropriateness of reporting to authorities take in-country advice on appropriate steps).

GFC understands the need to make decisions that are appropriate and effective in the local context and take into account local laws, culture, etc. Generally, the local partner organization will take the lead in decision-making, following their safeguarding procedures, unless it is a concern about the partner, in which case local expertise/advice may be sought via GFC contacts/network.

⁴ From Plan International, Child Protection Policy Reporting and Responding to Child Protection Issues in Plan

A central database of all safeguarding incidents is maintained. The data is anonymized but is analyzed regularly by the DSL and the Global Safeguarding Team to evaluate the effectiveness of response, identify gaps in resources and knowledge, and develop methods to improve practice. This evaluation is recorded in the Global Safeguarding Team's annual report to the Board. Access to records is limited to the DSL, regional program directors, and the person responsible for safeguarding. Access by other individuals requires permission from the DSL.

Managing Disclosures

GFC staff may find they are the recipient of a disclosure by a child or a partner in the field. These bullet points should offer some direction in how to receive this disclosure safely and appropriately and follow the correct next steps:

- Is the child safe? If not, how can we ensure their safety?
- Reread the Global Safeguarding Policy.
- Think about what you might say/do and how you might present before it happens.
- Try to be available to be spoken to. The child/youth may not be ready when you are.
- Listen carefully without interrupting. When it is appropriate, ask questions to clarify the allegation, but remember you are there to clarify facts, not to conduct an investigation.
- Take any disclosures seriously, even if you cannot see any injury that would support the story.
- Be sensitive—arrange a safe and private environment.
- Stay calm—don't show shock or horror.
- Be reassuring—tell the child/youth that they were right to tell and have done nothing wrong.
- Be responsive—acknowledge how difficult it was for the child/youth to tell, explain what needs to happen next.
- Be honest—don't make promises that you can't keep.
- Be supportive—put arrangements in place for initial support.
- Don't promise confidentiality.
- Don't delay action in response to a disclosure.
- Don't be afraid of being wrong or be concerned about starting an investigation.
- Don't pre-judge what you are told or make assumptions.
- Before taking any further action, immediately contact the DSL or, if unavailable, your supervisor to discuss next steps. They will work with you to decide who should be informed in the child's network.
- At the earliest opportunity, make a written record.

Decisions about referrals of the child/youth to wider agencies (e.g., for counseling or psychosocial support) should be led by the child/youth, the partner organization (if applicable), and/or a trusted adult they identify, not GFC. GFC will, however, provide details of support services that have been vetted as child-friendly by either GFC, our consultants, our partners, or a recognized child protection agency (e.g., UNICEF, Save the Children).

Concerns involving GFC staff, Associates, consultants and volunteers

- DSL informed immediately.
- DSL informs the designated Board member/trustee for safeguarding and the CEO.
- Regardless of region, the designated Board member/trustee informs the US regulator and/or the UK Charity Commission, as appropriate.
- The staff member may be suspended, pending investigation.
- Where the individual is a UK national or resident, the DSL reports the matter to the LADO in the area where they live in the UK if appropriate. This is in addition to any official in-country reporting.
